OVERVIEW

HOEK DESIGN TC-75 Braveheart of Sark, 1998 — Designed by Hoek and presenting the very first Truly Classic 75, Braveheart of Sark is a vessel for the experienced yachtsman, her interior richly veneered in mahogany and finished with meticulous joinery that speaks to both tradition and refinement. Built to perform, she has distinguished herself in competitive sailing, combining graceful lines with the seaworthy engineering of the TC-75. Boat International lauded her as an extraordinary accomplishment, noting her exceptional liveaboard comfort and commanding presence at anchor.

Her elegance was acknowledged by her peers when she was awarded Most Beautiful Yacht, an honor decided by fellow ARC participants, the accolade falling clearly to the impeccably maintained Truly Classic 75, Braveheart of Sark. That recognition carried special resonance for her owner, one of the quartet of skippers who took part in the inaugural ARC in 1986 and who returned to race in the 30th Edition. For those contemplating a purchase, the vessel's present location represents a rare chance to acquire a yacht of this stature; investigate yacht sales in the current boat location to appreciate the poise and performance of Braveheart of Sark.
