DETAILED DESCRIPTION

Unveiling the legendary 2003 Mc Conaghy Super Maxi 86 'Way of Life'

Set sail on an extraordinary journey aboard the 2003 Mc Conaghy 86' 6" Super Maxi racing yacht Way of Life, now offered for sale in Koper, Slovenia, a benchmark of grand prix performance whose celebrated campaign blends pedigree, pace and relentless development to deliver uncompromising results both offshore and inshore. Formerly MORNING GLORY, this Super Maxi 86 carries a storied global racing legacy: built by Mc Conaghy Boats in 2003 as a pioneering canting keel design, she made her presence felt across the USA and Mediterranean Maxi circuits and set a standard for big boat innovation and execution. Conceived alongside PYEWACKET and embracing the CBTF concept, Way of Life leverages a canting ballast with twin foils to unlock dramatic gains in power and control, and early victories in prestigious offshore events thrust canting keel technology into the spotlight. Her hull, deliberately narrower than many modern racers, was engineered to rely on the keel's cant for stability and righting moment, while a signature rotating canard or forward rudder—controllable from the helm either independently or in concert with the main rudder—sharpens handling and reduces leeway. Although not optimized to dominate pure reaching legs, she excels in velocity made good, thrives in flat water and consistently remains compellingly competitive among the world's elite racing yachts. Rebranded as VESPER PI she claimed line honors against some of the Mediterranean's fastest Maxis, proved her mettle at the 2019 Rolex Capri Sailing Week and emerged as a standout performer in the renowned Barcelona race. Under new ownership WAY OF LIFE has benefited from significant recent investment, including the 2019 replacement of PBO standing rigging to reduce weight aloft and an expanded sail wardrobe to broaden her performance envelope, and she continues to deliver line honors success as a sensational, blisteringly fast platform for both offshore and inshore campaigns. Available now for immediate charter or purchase, the yacht is supported by a 2019 survey ready for review; for detailed specifications and refit information please contact us by email and embark on your next sailing adventure with a true legend.
