SPECIFICATIONS

Overview

A unique collaboration between Lyman Morse and C. Raymond Hunt, Mascotte is an exceptionally strong, seaworthy cruiser. A recent modification in her layout gives her three staterooms with two heads, the master being forward with an island queen and en suite head and shower. There are two additional staterooms for family or guests. Her interior is light and airy with white oak bulkheads and trim. The large athwartships galley and salon are on the main level with 360 degree views. The galley is equipped with a dumb waiter to the flybridge for easy movement of food and drink. In the salon there is a cozy Luke fire place. Mascotte represents a rare opportunity to own a Morse/Hunt yacht. Owner would consider trade.

Hull

The Flag Blue hull is a full-dead rise deep-V with propeller tunnels, hand laminated using bi-axial E-glass fabrics. Bottom laminate (below chine) is cored with 2 layers Airex; topsides laminate (above chine) and transom laminate is cored with Divinycell. The areas around the stem, transom corners, sheer, and centerline are solid FRP laminate as are areas in way of struts, shaft logs, rudder ports, discharge standpipes, and other through-hulls. There is a collision tank in the forward bilge and five main structural bulkheads. All bilges are finished with light gray gelcoat. A full length rub rail and quarter guard are covered with a 1-1/4" stainless half oval striker. Boottop is a single white stripe and bottom paint is light blue. Deck, cabin and flybridge sole are balsa-cored FRP molded laminate. Plywood core is used in way of all hardware. The hull and deck are mechanically fastened and bonded. Toe rail is varnished teak with custom chocks let in, 3 on each side. Open chocks, 2 per side, are located at transom corners. There are 2 bow, 4 spring line, and 2 stern Buck open base Herroshoff-style cleats. Side rails are sailboat-style upper and lower lifelines on tapered stainless stanchions, with boarding gates, port and starboard. Bow rail, quarter rails, cabin top and all other handrails are polished stainless. Flybridge room is molded FRP with Divinycell. The hardtop structure is fabricated of rectangular aluminum tube and fitted with tinted front windshield, Awlgrip-painted to match deck. Aft centerline hardtop support is an aluminum sailboat mast extrusion enclosing stove pipe and is Awlgrip-painted to match deck. Custom smoke hood at peak; flag halyard and deck flood lights.
