Cockpit

This is the area that has made Sea Ray famous with room for entertaining and cruising. The skipper has a dedicated helm seat with a bench to the side long enough for seating for three. Behind the helm area is a massive U-shaped settee with room for many guests and friends. Hidden away behind doors and covers is a wet bar with sink, U-Line ice maker, trash receptacle and refrigerator. Further aft is another curved bench which will electrically extend to make a sun pad. A transom door leads to the swim platform and the TNT dinghy lift. Some of the earlier models of the Super Sun Sport had a garage for a PWC, but this model has instead better access to the aft end of the engine room. Twin Glendinning Cable Master power cord retrieval systems make storing the power cords an easy task.
