Vessel Walkthrough & Accommodations

In the cockpit is a U shaped lounge with a cocktail table which converts the seating to a sunpad or berth under the camper canvas. On deck entertaining is facilitated by the icemaker and wet bar. Cockpit speakers complete the scene. Open the transom door to walk out on the swim platform and take a dip, then wash off in the hot transom shower. New cockpit carpeting snaps out for low maintenance and back in to cushion bare feet. The starboard pilot's chair swivels and adjusts to suit the operator. Next to it is the three person companion bench seat. The portside companionway leads to the salon. On the port is the galley and to starboard a settee, which has a pull-out to make it an additional bed. The colors are pickled oak and beige. Headroom is 6'6". The mid-cabin also has a seating area with a table that converts into a bed. Sliding wood doors make it private, and the starboard day head (Vacuflush) with sink completes the guest quarters. Forward to port is the master head (Vacuflush) with stand-up shower, vanity and sink. The shower also has a seat. Forward is the master, with a queen size pedestal berth, full length mirror and two hanging lockers with drawers. In the forepeak is the anchor locker. The transom locker holds power cable, waterline, and fenders.

Broker's Comments

This is Sea Ray's most popular configuration. Ergonomics are the best in the business, fitting useable space everywhere and giving maximum comfort and ease of use. If you cruise with two, you have a liveaboard with three private areas and loads of storage spaces. Another couple aboard will love the aft head and the privacy afforded by the sliding door to the mid cabin. Take a third couple for the weekend- they can sleep on the convertible settee. Two independent air conditioners with reverse cycle heating assure comfort to everyone. The well thought out canvas design allows you to run with the full enclosure installed in inclement weather. When it is gorgeous out, you can remove all canvas down to the radar arch. If the sun is hot, use the bimini top. To shield the cockpit, you can deploy the camper top and roll up or unzip the sides. Sea Ray installed instruments are seamlessly integrated, making navigation a snap.
