DETAILED INFORMATION

Manufacturer Provided Description

The Boston Whaler 350 Defiance features patented Duobond construction making it the only boat of its size that can stay afloat if it's holed or swamped. Other innovations include: a breakthrough performance exhaust system that keeps the twin diesel inboards fuel-efficient as it channels the exhaust below the water and well away from the boat, and a raised helm deck (patent pending) that slides back electronically to completely expose the engines for ultra-easy access. The 350 Defiance may be the most fishable Whaler yet, with the largest cockpit this company has ever designed, providing loads of room and storage for all gear and tackle, plus a bait prep station, padded gunnels, a wide transom with door, and more. This is also the most luxurious Whaler ever, with fine woods and fabrics in a large cabin (six-foot, five-inch headroom), featuring a fully equipped galley, a dinette that converts to a double berth, a head with a fully enclosed shower, and a comfortable forward berth.
