Overview

The 2003 MILLENNIUM GULF CRAFT 118 is designed by Frank Mulder, the well-known international naval architect. The yacht's stylish and elegant lines are a reflection of the best in marine engineering. There are four staterooms that sleep a total of nine guests. "Running On The Waves" has a split-level on-deck Master, plus a full-beam VIP below along with two additional guest staterooms. The Master is on the main deck with a king bed and separate large dressing area and closets. The master bath with Jacuzzi is forward and below. Silk brocade curtains can be lowered at a touch of the button highlighting the large Plasma TV which faces the bed. Aft and below deck is the VIP Stateroom which has a queen-size bed. There is a walk-in closet and ensuite bath featuring a glass enclosed shower. There are two additional guest staterooms, one has Running On The Waves a queen-size bed, the other a full bed plus one single bed so it can sleep three. There is plenty of entertainment aboard ranging from a high-end home theatre system on the main deck to an assortment of water toys in the garage including two jet-skis, one tender, two sea-bobs. The full-beam salon is divided by an aft seating area which has a convertible cocktail table that transforms into a formal dining table at the push of a button. Forward is a drop down movie screen with plenty of comfortable seating. This stylish and contemporary yacht has a Jacuzzi, full bar and plenty of sunning areas for guests to relax.
