WALK THROUGH

First impression of TAKE FIVE is that it is a 50 ft boat, not a 38 ft.

The wide beam hints to the massive interior as you approach and walk onboard.

The cockpit is covered with a ample bimini and dodger and making a comfortable sailing and entertaining space at the helm.

An offset entry into the interior allows a very large stateroom in the port aft. Besides the large double berth there is a private sink, head and shower.

Opposite the aft stateroom is the galley with a Princess stove and oven, stainless steel sink and the large Adler Barbour Fridge.

Looking forward, the impression is the beautiful classic, but not dark wood interior. Looking left is a wood stove for heat in cooler climates.

The dinning area is to port with setting for at least 6. Surrounding the dinning area are an abundance of display space for picture frames and collectables and storage space for much more.

To starboard is a comfortable couch with more display area above.

Moving forward to the stateroom, the port is the private head and separate shower. Looking forward again is the large V-Berth

See for yourself, this a comfortable classic.
