Overview

Classic Good Looks in a Modern Package!

Cherubini Yachts in partnership with naval architect, Eric W. Sponberg, set out to recreate the look of a "roaring 20's" speedboat in a modern incarnation and succeeded with the Classic 20. Introduced in 2002, this boat had all the visual appeal of a classic wooden runabout but is made completely out of fiberglass! Even the wood deck topsides are a cleverly done fabric with a computer generated and died wood pattern encapsulated under a clear coat of glass!! All the look and feel of a classic without all the maintenance!! Couple the looks with the ability to run over 40mph and seat 5 in its dual cockpit design and this boat is a true standout. A jet drive allows this boat to run in the shallowest of waters and is safe with no moving external propeller.

Priced correctly, this is about as much "head turning fun" as you can have in a boat of this size range! A great opportunity to own a timeless day boat or a very elegant tender!
