Accommodations

As you board WHO'S YOUR PAPA the cockpit is quite roomy and has all the options you expect on an Intrepid, and a large livewell is built in the transom. Moving forward to starboard is the hull side "dive door" option. The large helm seat area has built-in tackle storage, sink with fresh & salt water, plus a built-in drink box cooler. This easily provides ample storage for all your fishing tackle, boating necessities and personal gear.

Forward of the center console is a seat for two that, with a push of a button, slides open to allow access into the console. A few steps down is the head, sink and shower. This area is well ventilated and has a generous amount of space. Continuing forward is another seating/lounging area with cushions. These seats are on electric slides that allow you to choose your desired head rest position.

In the bow is more easily accessible storage and an automatic windlass anchor system.
