DETAILED INFORMATION

General Condition

Boat sank from rainwater accumulation after a hurricane in 2011. Boat was towed to our yard and hauled out of the water and blocked. She has sat there ever since. No one pickled the engines or did any work to her after being hauled out. You are basically looking at a hull and cabin. A few things that we see that look salvageable are:

Shafts

Struts

Propellers

Tower

Fighting chair- Release Marine

Outriggers

Bow rail

Windshield

Beyond that there isn't much that can be saved.
