Model Overview

The 3490 Ocean Runner Flybridge offers a dual control design with a lower main control station and a flybridge station with seating for four. The mission of this boat is flexibility. It combines the advantages of an all-weather, enclosed operation like the 3480 with the excellent visibility offered by an elevated command station. The flybridge helm and controls are positioned slightly aft so captains can easily see the fishing activities on the aft deck.
