SPECIFICATIONS

Overview

Silandra V is a custom long-range performance cruiser developed by Luca Brenta and built at the Nautor's Swan Factory in Finland. She is truly unique, featuring an impressive array of innovations that combine to create the perfect cruising yacht with competitive racing potential.

Her sandwich hull is built using carbon and aramid fibres to achieve a strong and rigid construction. The hydraulic lifting keel reduces draft to only 2.65m while in the down position, reaches 4.47m allowing impressive upwind performance and stability.

Silandra V is now back in the Mediterranean and based on the French Riviera
