SPECIFICATIONS

Overview

Classic Egg Harbor Design that incorporates a larger beam than typical on this length boat, resulting in a vessel that seems larger than she is. Much of the simple original charm has been maintained on this hull, with the 'galley up' floorplan and 'cris-cross' bunks in the second stateroom. Master stateroom has berth on centerline and private access to the full head. Many upgrades and fastidious maintenance assure you of a boat that belies her age, from the repowered Crusaders in '06 and running gear to the salon and bridge. Clean, low hours and available for showing immediately.

DETAILED INFORMATION

Accommodations

The 37 Egg Harbor is a scaled-down version of the 41 Egg, built on the same beam hull the 37 is a competent family cruiser, with a full teak woodwork interior. She's built on a modified-V hull with a 9 degree deadrise at the transom. Inside the interior is every bit impressive (and the exact same as her bigger sister the 41 Egg). The salon is the center-piece of the boat, Galley up version with Galley to port and entertaining to starboard,. With the boats wide beam, it provides an interior volume seldom found on boats her size, and the quality teak woodwork is typical of all Egg Harbor models. All the way forward the master stateroom has a full size queen walk-around island bed, plenty of storage in cabinets above and below bed. There is a private door from master into head with a full size stall shower and a electric marine head, with holding tank and 'Y' valve. Walking aft to stb. side there is a guest stateroom with cris-cross bunks and a full size cedar lined closet and a door to head opposite stateroom. The salon has a new Leather L-sofa and a barrel chair opposite, teak high-low table and a wetbar . The galley has a full size Norcold refrigerator/freezer, a microwave oven, a Princess 3 burner cook top, stainless steel sink, and plenty of counter and cabinet space in the galley. Up top on the bridge, she has a factory lace-on half tower and a full enclosure.
