DETAILED INFORMATION

Vessel Layout

From the cockpit moving forward into the salon and galley area, to starboard is a large L-shaped settee with a table that is ideal for dining. To port is a straight settee facing to starboard. The salon has seating for a crowd and forward to port is the salon level galley. With excellent refrigeration, a real stove with oven, and very good storage, this is a galley designed for real food preparation.

Moving up stairs from the salon level is the enclosed pilothouse with deck access doors port and starboard. This is a serious dedicated helm and with excellent sight lines, a settee with table, a pilot berth and broad display of navigation and communication electronics. Additional pilothouse features include Stidd helm chair and custom book case.

Forward from the pilothouse and down there are two staterooms with ensuite heads and stall showers. The walk in engine room is access from the master suite or from the lazarette.
