14. COMMENTS

LADY MAY is a sleek, innovative yacht delivered by Feadship in 2014 to an experienced yacht owner. Featuring a modern bow and whaleback sheer, this 46m luxury yacht was designed by Dubois Naval Architects with an interior design by Redman Whiteley Dixon. Both were rewarded for their work on LADY MAY at the 2015 ShowBoats Design Awards, in the categories of exterior design, naval architecture and interior design.

LADY MAY boasts an unprecedented use of glass panels all the way round the yacht, sliding windows on the flybridge and main deck that facilitate a wide range of outdoor/indoor scenarios, a radically different mast design, a rotating floor in the main lounge and an exceptionally large refrigeration capacity.

White marble, stainless steel trim, Macassar ebony cabinets and bleached oak joinery create a modern, sophisticated and calming interior. Natural light is maximised throughout the interior of the vessel, culminating in the stunning views from the owner's suite.

A stunning, state-of-the-art yacht that does not compromise on design or performance, LADY MAY is modern, sophisticated and perfect for entertaining or relaxing.
