DETAILED INFORMATION

Chaparral 310 Vessel Walkthrough

You board the vessel from the stern via the swim platform. There is an access door in the stern that opens into the outdoor salon. The seating can be configured into a large sunpad, a seating area, or outdoor dining area.

The helm is on the starboard side and the seat is wide enough for two adults. Visibility is good and the eisnglas is in good shape. There is a lounge to the right of the helm and an out door bar just aft of the lounge.

The companionway to down below is on the same bulkhead as the helm and opens via a curved door that slides to port. There are 3 steps going down below and opens to the galley and curved setee. The master berth runs transversely from port to starboard and there is a television on the port side. The guest berth is aft , behind the companionway steps and will sleep two.

The head is on the port side and is just aft of the galley. There is an electric toilet and a shower nozzle. The toilet lid doubles as a seat for the shower.

The middle portion of the windshield opens allowing access to the bow area which is surrounded by a stainless steel bow rail.
