Overview

A classic William Garden beauty at an affordable price! Elegance reminiscent of the old days at sea, a unique design with the full head forward and a large workshop space included. Stunning interior woodwork.

This boat has been outfitted for cruising by her current owners, and is in great condition. She was repowered in 2004 with a Yanmar 55 HP engine, which only has 30 hours on it. Among her many improvements are a new wooden bow sprit, an electric anchor windlass, all new opening ports, stainless dorade vents, air conditioning, and more!

Accommodations

Everything about the interior of this boat shouts out "classic luxury." The interior woodwork is elegant and detailed, lending the feeling of being on a wooden ship but with the confidence of fiberglass under your feet. Upon entering the companionway, the galley is to starboard and the navigation station is to port.

From here, you take a step down into the main salon. Engine access is underneath the settee, centerline, for easy care and maintenance. There is a dinette table to port and a comfortable settee, full of storage, to starboard.

What really sets this boat apart is the forward living quarters. The forward part of the boat is split between a spacious head with a stall shower to port and a large and comfortable double bunk to starboard, a design that makes perfect sense for a couple and provides excellent airflow and ventilation.

Forward, where the v-berth would normally be, is a storage area/workshop, where a small washing machine adds to the "comfort factor" of this boat.
