Three steps up to the flybridge - the main entertainment area, allows seating on both sides behind the three place adjustable helm seats. From here there are "Sidewalk" decks for easy access to the huge sunpad and anchor on the bow.

Walking back down and into the 650 square feet interior on that yacht, which actually measures 47,7 feet, the impressive expanse of glass floods the salon with nice natural light and provides panoramic views throughout. The interior is finished in a beautiful high gloss cherry. A convertible sofa to starboard, along with a custom leaf table and two high back chairs. To port is another convertible settee and custom dinette table.

The galley is to starboard forward and equipped to prepare a nice snack to a gourmet diner.

Sleeping accommodations create the utmost in privacy with the guest stateroom being forward with a private entrance to the full size head and private shower. The master stateroom sits aft of the salon and is light and airy with the berth to starboard. To port is a full length split suite head and shower configuration.

The engine room is accessed from the main salon and has plenty of room to work and access the mechanical areas easily.
