About the Lagoon

The Lagoon 37 is a boat designed with the style, layout, and quality that accelerated the popularity of the cruising catamaran in the United States.

The Lagoon 37's were built by two of the world's leading sailboat builders, Jeanneau and Tillotson Pearson using advanced techniques in the USA utilizing glass cloths, vinylester resins, balsa cored construction and leading molding techniques that have been perfected over more than five decades of combined manufacturing experience.

She was designed by the innovative French naval architects Marc Van Peteghem and Vincent Lauriot Prevost.

The optimized hull construction saves weight and improves performance and sea-keeping. The high standard of construction is the reason these yachts keep their value very well, so this is your chance!

Only 43 of them were built, it was just too expensive to do a real mass production, and this is truly a Very Rare Galley-Up!
