History of Rodriquez

Luxury yacht builder Rodriquez was founded in 1887 by Leopoldo Rodriquez as a naval service shipyard in the Sicilian port of Messina. Leopoldo's son Carlo expanded the shipyard's operations during World War II by servicing Italian submarines and railway cars. In 1956, innovator Carlo Rodriquez launched the first hydrofoil for commercial applications, Freccia del Sole. The construction of hydrofoils and fast ferries soon became a successful business for the shipyard. In 1998, Rodriquez also began manufacturing auxiliary marine components.

In 2012, Italian commercial shipbuilding group Intermarine spa incorporated the Rodriquez Cantieri Navali, Rodriquez Marine System and Conam trademarks. Intermarine operates three shipyards: in Messina, La Spezia and Sarzana, Italy.
