SPECIFICATIONS

Overview

Island Girl is a 1994 Luhrs 380 Tournament sport fisher with twin Detroit Diesel 671 turbo charged engines (1446 hrs port, 1455 hrs starboard), accommodations for 5, and a legendary Luhrs hull that gets you to the fishing grounds and back with confidence. If you are looking for a good deal on a sport fishing boat then buy this one. The owner is ready to move to a smaller boat and wants to get her sold. The price is fair, the boat is in good condition, and was just detailed and polished from the deck up. Don't waste time wondering, and miss the deal. Be the one that got it!

DETAILED INFORMATION

Island Girl walk through

Island Girl has a wide open aft deck with a capped transom door, bait prep stations, bar, indeck fish boxes, and a ladder leading topside. Double doors open to the comfortable salon with built in furniture, over head rod storage, carpeted deck, bar area, and movable table. One step leads down to the port side galley with refrigerator/freezer, solid surface counter, 2 burner stove, and ample storage. The passage way forward and down leads to the guest quarters with over/under bunks to port, head with separate shower and electric toilet to starboard, and the master cabin. The master cabin has a centerline queen berth, wood lathing on the hull sides, over head hatches, and standing lockers. The fly bridge has an angled access ladder, two helm chairs, overhead electronics box, aluminum frame top, rod holders, and ample seating for guests.

Island Girl Fishing and Deck

Island Girl was built with serious fishing in mind. It has 24 rod holders, a large built in prep and storage station with cutting board, sink, hot and cold water, and tackle storage. There are three in deck fish boxes with inserts for easy cleaning, an easy opening transom door, insulated fish box in the transom, and second prep station behind the ladder going topside. The decks going forward have ample stainless railing, 8 inch cleats, grab bars on the cabin sides, and good nonskid. There is a stainless steel, foot powered anchor windlass with fortress anchor in the pulpit.

Engines and Engine Space

Island Girl has 671 Turbo Detroit Diesels for reliable power with 1446 engine hours port and 1455 starboard. These engines have chrome covered valve covers and piping, recent service work, start up, and run well. Access is through Four salon deck hatches that provide good visibility, and make maintenance work easier. The dipstick and water tank are easy to reach. There is a 110 volt Boat Safe engine compartment heater, and 6 gallon water heater. A Koehler kw generator with hours, sound insulation, and clean bilges.

Island Girl Galley

Island Girl has a step down U- shaped, full beam, galley. Features include:

- Solid surface white counter tops

- Stainless steel sink with hot and cold pressurized water
- 2 burner electric cook top
- 2 door refrigerator with wood grain doors
- Panasonic Microwave
- Black and Decker coffee maker
- Teak cabinetry

Island Girl Accomodations and Head

Island Girl's accomodations are roomy and comfortable. The guest quarters offers above and below twin bunks, storage lockers, opening port light, and wood trim. The master cabin has a centerline queen berth, hanging lockers, under bed storage, reading lights, wood slat walls, television, and overhead hatch. The head features:

- Solid surface counter
- Stainless steel sink with hot and cold running water
- Electric head
- Separate glass door shower
- Towel bar

Island Girl Electronics

The electronics include:

- Furuno radar
- Furuno depth recorder
- Raymarine chartplotter
- Lowrance GPS
- Icom VHF
- ACR spot light control
- Stereo with CD player
- Panasonic television
