Overview

Offshore yachts are designed and built with an attention to detail that is remarkable. The more you know about boats the more you'll appreciate Offshore's demanding standards of quality. It's not until you've made a difficult passage in rough seas that you will truly appreciate Offshore's maxim "The softest ride on the water." This isn't just an advertising slogan; it is the result of superior design translating directly into increased comfort, safety, and value. Details like recessed hull portlights, molded side-deck overheads, and fully finished, deck-hatch undersides tell the knowledgeable buyer a lot about the level of craftsmanship that has gone into every Offshore. These are yachts that invite comparison with other well-known brands, some of which cost hundreds of thousands more but still don't measure up to Offshore's standards. An express version of the successful 54' Crealock designed 54 Pilothouse. Galley up with two generous size staterooms with ensuite heads. An elegant profile with a low center of gravity which will be an excellent performer in all sea conditions and an easy yacht for a couple to run by themselves. As with all other Offshore models she offers a unique list of options and choices for the most demanding yachtsman.
