DETAILED INFORMATION

Overview

There are several important things that we like about the Prestige 550 Fly. First is her size. She is not so large that she needs professional crew, but on the other hand she is big enough to take most anywhere and be able to handle snotty conditions without much fuss or concern. Secondly, her design is not the flavor of the month. It is not "Euro," nor "American," nor "Downeast," nor "Expedition" nor whatever. Rather, the 550 is a modern design based on classic lines that will stand the test of time and be as much in style 40 years from now as today; sort of like a pin-striped business suit or a herringbone sport jacket -- they are always in style anywhere in the world. She is a big motoryacht and people looking at larger yachts should ask themselves if they really need that much room. Conversely, people looking at smaller express cruisers should ask themselves if they might not be happier in the long run by spending a little more money now and get a boat that will probably last a lifetime. While the 550 Flybridge has a top speed of 30 knots we would probably cruise her at 2250 rpm, going almost 18 knots and burning 33 gal. (126 L) per hour. That is about as efficient as a boat this size can be operated. Drop her down to displacement speeds and she has a range of 1,000 nautical miles. We've been aboard several Prestige yachts over the past year and have been impressed with each one. (Boattest.com)

This yacht was ordered with the Seakeeper 9 Gyro Stabilizer. She works while underway and while at anchor. With the Seakeeper 9 you will see a 78% roll reduction on this boat per the recorded performance data from Seakeeper. The test conditions were during 14 to 19 knot winds and 3' waves. This would be $100,000 to add to any existing boat.
