Other Features and Equipment

The Viking 64 convertible cockpit boasts 180 feet of working space, including a Mezzanine deck. The Mezzanine actually enhances the cockpit and makes it feel larger because every important detail is built-ins and then some. Bait freezers, for example are under mounted to increase capacity. A step to the salon lifts to expose a cavernous drink cooler. The Mezzanine is especially desirable on a yacht this size because it creates an upper and lower cockpit; spectators are close to the action, but never in the way of the angler or wireman, and never obstruct the captain's view of the cockpit.

Remarks

Last Stall was built without missing an option available. From interior upgrades to backup systems and a complete list of deck equipment, this boat is ready to go.
