Overview

Hull one of the Horizon FD85 is an exemplary example of the model's design concept: to take advantage of the voluminous 23'3" beam and provide areas, both indoors and out, for entertaining, relaxing and taking in the view. Her main salon incorporates large areas of floor-to-ceiling glass windows, which create a feeling of being at one with nature. She provides a five en suite stateroom layout – the Master on deck with four guest staterooms below – and separate crew quarters forward of the engines. The interior is modern yet comfortable, mixing elegant Wenge and Sycamore woods with neutral soft goods, lacquers, and stone. Her spacious aft deck and open flybridge invite quality time spent with family and friends enjoying the FD85's yachting lifestyle.

Accommodations

Hull one of the Horizon FD85 is an exemplary example of the model's design concept: to take advantage of the voluminous 23'3" beam and provide areas, both indoors and out, for entertaining, relaxing and taking in the view. Her main salon incorporates large areas of floor-to-ceiling glass windows, which create a feeling of being at one with nature. She provides a five en suite stateroom layout – the Master on deck with four guest staterooms below – and separate crew quarters forward of the engines. The interior is modern yet comfortable, mixing elegant Wenge and Sycamore woods with neutral soft goods, lacquers, and stone. Her spacious aft deck and open flybridge invite quality time spent with family and friends enjoying the FD85's yachting lifestyle.

The result of a close collaboration between world-renowned yacht designer Cor D. Rover and Horizon's in-house naval architecture team, the FD85 features superior cruising capabilities that complement living and entertaining spaces comparable to 100-foot-plus megayachts. With a striking exterior appearance, efficient layout, and flexible speeds, the Horizon FD85 provides the opportunity to enjoy your surroundings while yachting in uniquely styled and luxurious accommodations.
