The Rybo Runner 31 Sportfisherman incorporates all the necessary advantages of a Rybovich boat in a trailerable package. Developed especially for the serious fisherman, the 31 Sportfisherman features a three-piece hull, deck, and integral inner liner configuration that opens up the gunwales for added space and toe room. The hull and deck are of all-fiberglass construction to eliminate the possibility of water getting into and rotting wood-cored stringers, bulkheads, transom and decks. The transom features a very strong, high-density, glass-filled core combined with reinforcement allowing absorption of weight and thrust of the engines. The 31 Sportfisherman's pedigreed stepped hull and generous deadrise has both rough-water capabilities and a wide beam to remain on an even keel at trolling speeds. It features greater performance efficiency by reducing drag, as well as excellent fuel economy, and a softer ride. The center console features an intelligently laid-out helm console and a full six-foot, three-inches of headroom in the head below. Standard features here include durable marine-grade aluminum fuel tanks, fuel fills to port and starboard for easy dockside fueling, flush-mounted stainless-steel hinges, molded non-skid, a heavy-duty PVC rub rail, stainless-steel pop-up cleats, and solid bronze through-hull fittings with quick-acting seacocks. The Rybo Runner 31 Sportfisherman features a wide array of standard equipment including a saltwater washdown, hydraulic steering, a Ritchie compass, two bilge pumps, four rod holders, an insulated fish box forward, indirect cockpit lighting, and a large fish locker.
