Overview

Formosa Yachts were built to cruise the world. Her full keel provides a gentle motion in a seaway and the ketch rig combinations match the sails to the sea state.

This vessel was purchased as a restoration which was started but not completed as the owners health became an issue. Offering a spacious interior and large windows, this would make a fine liveaboard or storage enough for an offshore adventure. The hull is in very good condition, recent upgrades to the standing rigging and recently varnished mast reflect the possibilities of this offshore capable vessel.
