DETAILED INFORMATION

Vessel Walk Through OR Overview

Stepping on board this vessel at the fixed swim platform, you will see two long, foam teak storage benches along the transom. Depending on the seating configuration, you will enter the cockpit through a center gate or a port gate. The cockpit seating is highly versatile in its layout options. The standard form is two L-shaped benches with aft facing backrests forward. The back of the seats have electric backrests that can lay flat towards the back of the boat. The port L-shaped bench sits on tracks, and with a pull of a lever can be slid to center turning the cockpit into a U-shaped seating area with a bi-folding table in the center. The table drops flat and has cushions to turn the entire cockpit seating area into a sunpad. The entire cockpit is also adorned with grey synthetic woven cockpit carpeting. Forward of the cockpit seating, you will find isinglass curtains enclosing the air conditioned helm area. Across the back of the enclosure is an electric grill and cockpit refrigerator. To port and starboard you can step up to the bow, where you will find an additional sunpad. The helm has a full sized dash with Garmin electronics, bench seating to port, and a retracting soft top roof overhead. Entering the cabin, you will find a small but functional galley to port, and a head to starboard at the base of the stairs. The bow of the boat has a large V-shaped dinette. The dinette area has a collapsible table that will convert into a large bed, or the seats can convert to bunk beds. Heading aft, the master stateroom is full beam with a queen size bed set against the starboard side hull. Storage and a small settee adorn the port side of the room.
