Overview

Do not miss this opportunity to own a magnificent yacht! A true beauty on the water, this 2001 53 Selene is a prime example of a classic trawler. Her comfortable 2 stateroom layout, spacious flybridge, and warm salon/galley area provide all the comforts of home. Well equipped with an array of navigational equipment, Naiad stabilizer fins, and powered by twin 225HP John Deere engines, she is ready to cruise.

As you walk up to the vessel, the first thing that catches your eye is the ample exterior deck space in the cockpit and foredeck as well as the upper aft deck, perfect for lounging or entertaining family and friends.

Once you have set foot on the cockpit from one of either side boarding gates, a watertight aft salon door offers entry to the spacious and welcoming salon and galley. The salon boasts ample of seating space on both port and starboard side with the galley located forward and to the port side of the vessel.

Moving forward past the galley and up three steps, you come up to the pilothouse. The single captains chair is positioned centerline with all navigational equipment at your fingertips making it a joy for any captain.

The teak and holly floors coupled with the elegant fit and finish of the teak and burlwood cabinetry make this classic yacht a true pleasure to own.

This high level of class with attention to detail carries throughout the entire vessel, especially when stepping down into the cabin area. The VIP Stateroom offers a queen size bed forward with attached large shower and head. The aft Master Stateroom is midship and full beam. She includes an adjacent sleeper settee with a desk area to port forward of the bed and a private shower with head to aft starboard side of the room. In this level, the fit and finish is enhanced by shiplap walls on both the VIP and MSR.

The engine room is easily accessible from a hatch on the salon floor as well as from a door in the MSR head. Down here you will find a couple of reliable 225HP John Deere engines, 12.5kW Westerbeke generator, batteries, and numerous other optional components.

Access to the lower deck area of the boat is via the aft salon door or either side door from the pilothouse. Out on this deck you will find a Portuguese flybridge that provides comfortable walk-around space as well as safety. Atop port and starboard side of the Portuguese bridge you are docking stations fully equipped with throttle controls and bow thruster. As you walk towards the stern of the boat, the covered wide walkways lead you to the cockpit. From here, take a few steps up and you land on the port side of the flybridge. This spacious area offers a large deck, seating area with table to port, two helm chairs positioned centerline, and another set of steps leading down to the pilothouse from the starboard side. A fully equipped helm station with great sightlines in every direction is protected from the elements by a clear plexiglass panel that runs the width of the dash.

This 2001 53 Selene will not last long. Please call to set up a private tour.
