Overview

Lady Augustine, a 2013 Marlow-Hunter 36 Sloop is one of the first models to benefit from Hunter's new ownership and a redesign with David Marlow's influence and goal of raising the bar for this very successful 36' Sloop model. This is one of the very few "newer" models to become available on the brokerage market. Most noticeable in the re-design is the new sleek cabin profile, made possible by the new and larger cabin windows plus fixed deck port-lights above the forward section of the salon; making her light and bright below.

Her plum bow and newly-designed hull has been refined to produce more volume and speed with extra grab rails in the cockpit area and through-out this yacht are indicative of the commitment to safety along with the good looks.

Honey-toned satin-varnished teak cabinetry below with a well-equipped U-Shaped sea-going Galley and an enlarged Private Master Aft Stateroom with a King-size berth, larger Dinette table that has been re-engineered to convert easily to a double berth, and an innovative fold-out table in the middle of the Port Settee provides optional seating for two with a table in between, or more with the table recessed, as well as a single berth. The large private V-berth has teak cabinets and storage on each side as well as shelves that run along each side of the berth. Additional storage is available below the berth.

This 2013 Marlow Hunter 36 Sloop has a B&G Zeus Color GPS Chartplotter, Raymarine EVO linear drive Autopilot (2017), Raymarine digital Depth and Speed Displays, as well as a custom Sunbrella Bimini with integrated SS Arch over the Cockpit. Lady Augustine is conveniently located in the brackish waters of the St. John River and is maintained to a high standard; an excellent example of this model; price to sell quickly because the Seller is ready for his next boat.

Call today to schedule a personal inspection. You won't be disappointed in the condition of this well-equipped and well-maintained 36' Cruising sloop.
