Overview

---

Accommodations

Four en-suite cabins with the owner's cabin benefiting from dedicated access from the saloon. Full beam master cabin with large en-suite finished with beautiful marble and teak accents. Dedicated desk area in the bedroom with seating making for a place to work or relax.

The VIP cabin is forward - again a large space with plenty of storage and spacious en-suite. Two guest cabins one with twin beds with additional pullman and one with a comfortable double. Both en-suite and plenty of storage with full height wardrobes. Spring mattresses in all cabins.

Galley

Excellent galley with an electric side door leading outside. Well equipped with everything one would expect and with extras such as; Wine fridge and garbage disposal unit

Exterior

The Azimut 88 has a traditional layout with a large cockpit and stairs leading to an enormous flybridge. The bow area is a big feature with U shaped seating making it a great place for sundowners or catching some midday sun.

Cockpit

Teak decking with stairs accessing both the flybridge and the swim platform. There is a small bar on the port side with a sink, which is useful for daytime use. Bench seating and table for dining. The aft platform is hydraulic up/down and can carry a large tender. Crew accommodation and engines can be accessed through a large door from the platform.

Flybridge

Always a key feature of any Azimut. A very large flybridge with plenty of well thought out seating both for lounging and dining. Teak decks and a spacious bar comprising of all the key equipment (ice maker, fridge etc). This particular example has a number of significant upgrades including a hardtop, additional spotlights aft, additional radar arch, crane and ever-popular jacuzzi.

Bow Area

Spacious seating with a bow canopy for protection from the sun.
