Manufacturer's description

The World Cat 246 SF is a mid-sized catamaran powerhouse built on the company's award-winning Vectorflo hull. It's becoming a favorite among tournament fishermen for its superb ride and big-boat characteristics. There's a waist-level, 300-quart insulated aft fish box and a multi-drawer, built-in tackle box. There's also a large 130-quart insulated food and beverage compartment. Other features include the enclosed head and change room with a chemical toilet, and the comfortable seating: a full-beam bench forward and a cushioned console seat. The command console features a wrap-around windshield, tilt steering, a built-in electronics compartment, a compass, storage, drink holders, and illuminated high-performance gauges and switches. Among the optional equipment available is a single-post aft ladder for snorkelers, swimmers, and divers. The 246 SF is rated for twin outboards of up to 150 horsepower each.
