This boat is in top condition for it's age. While the 290 Open was one of Luhrs most popular models ever built, the diesel option was very rare. Everything is working on board and the seller himself is the type of person you would want to buy a boat from.

If you are in the market for a smaller diesel express w tower or a Convertible w twin diesels, you should jump on board and get your offer in, because this boat will not last long.
