SPECIFICATIONS

Overview

No problems mate, owning and sailing this Catalina 350 is like living in Hog Heaven! No Joke!! "Holdernewt" is an example of a well-maintained MK II, is sized right for a large enough for family cruising and small enough for single handing. Best of all with this kind of well balanced in a puff or a 25-knot ocean ride. I have been eight years cruising the Caribbean (full time) and would sail a 350 Catalina anytime. NICE SAILBOAT!

DETAILED INFORMATION

Features

The Catalina 350 features deep coamings and seats long enough for sleeping highlight the cockpit. Wide weather decks and inboard shrouds make for secure passages. A divided anchor locker has double rollers and electric windlass. Sail controls are led aft on the cabin top to large winches. The powerful, yet easily managed rig includes ball-bearing blocks. Electric halyard and mainsail winches, furling boom or mast are also available. The versatile accommodations include settees that will serve as sea berths. Private cabins, separate stall shower, generous tankage, large battery banks and big lockers give the 350 the capacity for comfortable cruising.
