Vessel Walkthrough

Upon stepping onboard "Catch Ya Self" you are meet with a Huge teak cockpit providing enough room to accommodate several anglers equipped with fish boxes, rod holders, tackle center, engine room access and ladder to the flybridge. Two steps up thru a door you enter the main salon with an L-shaped leather sofa to port provides the perfect place to lounge about and swap stories of the one that got away. Rod storage is beneath the sofa and cabinet storage is located to starboard. A high gloss portable custom coffee table provides a convenient place to serve up a cold drink as you and your guests settle back and watch TV or put in a movie. Catch Ya Self's entertainment center is located starboard. Blending seamlessly with the salon, the galley is forward. The open arrangement allows for optimal work space without isolating the chef from the rest of the crew. Equipped with appliances, extra deep storage cabinets, and a teak and holly floor in the galley. Appliances include electric range, microwave/convection oven, ice maker, two under counter refrigerator drawers and two under counter freezers. The U-shaped dinette with leather upholstery is starboard. A few steps lead down to the companionway where the master stateroom lies to port. Viking understands that luxury is just as important as functionality. Nowhere is that more evident than in the master stateroom. A queen-sized walk-around berth centers the room while teak nightstands flank the upholstered headboard. Storage in this stateroom is ample (Cedar-lined hanging locker, nightstand storage, under berth storage) but designed so well that the stateroom is remarkably open. The master stateroom has an ensuite head and private entertainment center. VIP stateroom is a split bow arrangement with a double-size lower berth and a single upper berth. Accents of high luster teak and clever use of space to maximize storage speak to Vikings commitment to quality. This stateroom has a TV and private access to the head shared with the starboard guest stateroom. The starboard Guest stateroom has upper and lower berths, hanging locker and private access to the head shared with the bow stateroom. High polished teak woodwork adds a rich luster to this space. Though luxury is important, Viking understands that every inch of a yacht must be functional. Yet functionality can be discreet. Catch Ya Self's washer and dryer is tucked in an alcove in the companionway, out of sight but easily accessed when needed. Also out of sight but easily accessed is the central vacuum which nests beneath the companionway stairs.
