DETAILED INFORMATION

Summary

Like other high-end big center consoles, the Canyon 376 comes well-equipped with a T-top that has an integrated tempered-glass windshield. Unlike many other boats in class, she has a small cabin and a private head in the console. Highlights that Grady-White likes to point out for this model are the SeaV2 hull designed by C. Raymond Hunt & Associates. In addition to the drains in the cockpit, all the lockers empty overboard as well. No water is routed to the bilge. Most importantly, she is offshore-ready, which means she is capable of running to the canyons or over to the Bahamas with a high-degree of security.
