SPECIFICATIONS

Overview

The Grady-White 306 Canyon (called the 306 Bimini in 1998–2009) is a sturdy offshore fishing boat with an uncluttered cockpit, plenty of storage, and the great open-water ride common to all late model Grady-White boats. The 10'7" beam of the 306 is wider than most boats in this class, and her deep cockpit offers an extra level of security when family and friends are aboard. Note that the full height windshield of the Grady-White 306 is integrated with the T-top. The standup head compartment has a marine toilet, which has never been used, freshwater sink, and hand-held shower. This boat has low engine hours and has been stored in a boat barn from day one.
