Overview

The DLX Series is a pillar of Carolina Skiff's brand, tracing its design back to the first Carolina Skiff built in 1986 and making it the most popular boat in the company's history. Designed to maximize space with a wide beam and a broad, stable hull, it's a true skiff in every sense of the word. Simple, practical and durable, the DLX is rugged enough for any utilitarian task you want to take on, and has the payload capacity to finish the job. Call it a charter boat, a dive boat, a ferry boat, a delivery boat - even call it a barge if you want - but make no mistake about it, the DLX Series is what America goes to work in when that work requires going out on the water.
