Overview

Yacht Description

Designed by one of Italy's premier megayacht builders, The Italian Sea Group, this Tecnomar Evo 55 exudes luxury. Enticing the most detail demanding Buyers with her provocative lines and innovative engineering the Evo 55 is taking the US pleasure market by storm. The only Evo in the US; take advantage of this special opportunity. Available to be seen easily.

Specifications

- Beam: 14'
- Hull Material: Fiberglass
- Max Draft: 4'
- Fuel Tank: 500 gallons

Interiors

The all-new design is stunning and never seen before. Entirely designed by the team of Interior Design of The Italian Sea Group and its Art Director Gian Marco Campanino. The TECNOMAR EVO 55 design will be always well recognizable and will set a new trend within this sector; the exterior design almost breaks with anything you may have seen before, with large use of LED lights throughout the length of the yacht, following the new automotive logics; this almost creates an artwork at night, which, combined with the many sculptural details cloaking the yacht, such as the custom stemhead, makes this yacht equal to no other. The same logic continues and it's even more evident below deck, where the luxury found is normally typical of a superyacht. The 55 features an interior layout with a master cabin forward (with ensuite bathroom) and a convertible lounge (again with ensuite bathroom), which can be completely separated from the galley which is placed on the starboard side. All new interiors feature subtle details and precious materials, which all together give a feel which is hard to explain and to match.
