Overview

Updated, refurbished and beautiful. Just over 200 hours on the Cummins diesels of this spectacular Chris Craft 392 Commander. You won't believe she's an '89 when you walk down the dock. A second owner boat that lived in a covered slip in the Occoquan River, VA from 1989 to 2008 until moving to Tracy's Landing, MD where she is kept in the water from May through November and stored on land and shrink wrapped in the cold weather. New engines, trans, genset and updated engine room done 2008-2010. Hull bottom soda blasted and epoxy barrier coated in 2013-2014, and an entire interior refit in 2014-2015. Click on the "complete details" tab for a full description of the upgrades. She features the single stateroom layout with a dinette and a lower helm. If you're looking for a classic sportfishing boat that's been professionally upgraded from keel to bridge, you've found the right boat.
