DETAILED INFORMATION

Construction

Mahogany planking over steam bent, white oak frames with bronze fastenings. In 1994 the Concordia Company of South Dartmouth, MA extensively rebuilt SUMATRA after she was damaged in Hurricane Bob. The project included new stern post, upper section of stem, transom, sheer planks, 25 topside planks, rudder, new margin planks, new plywood deck and cabin top cover in fiberglass, and new cockpit coamings. In addition, much of her bronze hardware was replaced with exact replicas by The Concordia Company, including bow and stern railing, stanchions with double life lines and new port lights. A new windlass and bronze hawse pipe were installed. All sea cocks were replaced.

Acommodations

The forward cabin has the standard Concordia layout with chain locker forward by V berths. The enclosed head is next aft to Port with stowage cabinets, Wilcox Crittenden head with holding tank, macerator pump and y-valve. Opposite to starboard are hanging lockers with shelves. The main salon is next aft, with the traditional Concordia berths, port and starboard, drop leaf table on center line and Luke soapstone fireplace forward to port. The galley is aft with quarter sawn maple countertops, a S/S sink, and 2 burner stove. There is a top loading S/S lined ice chest. Interior is finished in the traditional "Concordia Way" with varnished knotty pine bulkheads, varnished oak deck beams and a teak cabin sole.

Spars amd Rigging

/8th yawl rig with 671 sqft sail area. All spars are varnished, sitka spruce The mizzen mast, both booms, all spreaders, mizzen jumpers and spinnaker pole were all replaced in 1994. The bronze and locust boom gallows and all standing and running renewed, and Ocean size 2 traveler system for main sheet added. Jiffy reefing on mainsail with Lewmar #8 bronze winch. Schaefer roller furling on head sail.

Mainsail, Genoa, Working Jib for club boom, Mizzen, Cruising Spinnaker with sock, Mizzen Staysail, all with sail covers. Also Storm jib and Storm trysail.
