Vessel Walk Through

Stepping on board at the transom, you will board onto the Armstrong motor bracket with walkthrough space between the motors and cockpit. There is a livewell with top and side viewing windows flush mounted into the transom with rod holders running up both sides of the cockpit gunwales. A large in-deck fish box runs across the beam of the cockpit. Under gunwale storage port and starboard keeps all your poles, brushes and gaffs ready at hand and out of the way. The front of the cockpit has tackle storage to port and centerline access into a spacious lazarette storage space. Stepping up two steps into the helm area, there is a bench seat running up the port side of the house. The helm is mounted centerline with a full electronics display. Forward of the helm is an L-shaped bench seat and access to the cabin space below. Upon entering the cabin, you will find a head immediately to starboard with a full-size standing shower and separate dry head. The salon sofa is set to port across from the galley. The galley features a convection oven, two burner cooktop, stainless steel appliances, and flatscreen TV overhead, as well as bountiful storage space. At the V-berth, there is a second small bench seat in front of the offset full berth to port. A second flatscreen TV and additional storage compliments this space.
