1999 MONTEREY 296

From the swim platform, you enter the roomy cockpit area and find an aft bench seat, a portside lounge seat and helm seating with room for two. The walk-through windshield allows access to the foredeck. From the cockpit area, you step down through the companionway into the climate controlled cabin and find the galley and head with shower to starboard and dinette/berth to port. The aft cabin converts into a sleeping berth aft with storage and privacy curtain. The large v-berth forward also has a screened and tinted deck hatch that opens for ventilation above the berth or access to the foredeck.

The cabin in this Monterey cruiser offers a large v-berth forward with overhead screened deck hatch for ventilation. The aft cabin lounge with window, a small foldout table and hanging locker storage also converts into a double size sleeping berth with privacy curtains. The dinette across from the galley also converts into a double size berth. A 10,000 BTU Marine Air Systems control climate control keeps you comfortable year-round.
