DETAILED INFORMATION

Overview

KENTUCKY BELLE represents a 94' Horizon Widebody is an exquisite and sophisticated luxury motoryacht. The design of John Lindblom, with the input of a very experienced owner, assured that no detail of luxury was overlooked. This vessel exudes a classical traditional ambiance with satin-finished Makora African cherry showcased with excellent interior joinery and accents of high gloss Carpathian elm burl. The crown molding throughout the salon and staterooms is mahogany. The molding, door frames, and adjacent cabinetry is also framed in mahogany. Honeycombed Crema Marfil marble is featured in the galley, heads, and salon soles. The honeycomb core feature reduces weight but still leaves the elegance only marble can give. The striking appearance of the marble against the lustrous finish of the wood joinery is very appealing. The vessel is most often entered by the owner and guest from the aft deck. The large extended hardtop with teak deck sole welcomes you to a generous lounge area with a high gloss teak dining table and seating. The oversized sliding glass door opens to the main salon. Warm and comfortable accommodations greet you and fill the senses. Ceiling heights are a key feature onboard KENTUCKY BELLE. The galley and master staterooms have a ceiling height of 7'3" and the salon ceiling height is 6'9". The volume of these areas boasts the feeling of a much larger vessel. The port side features built-in cabinetry housing the 43" HD plasma TV and electronic entertainment center. The entire aft portion of the vessel is decorated with free standing furnishings to create a generous salon/living room. Moving forward on the port side one is greeted with a built-in wet bar and fully equipped station perfect for entertaining. The starboard side forward of the settee features a pillar-framed half bulkhead to separate the dining area. The dining area seats Eight. A built-in buffet and chandelier complete the area. One step up and moving forward on the starboard side is the professionally- equipped galley. A large pantry, stainless steel stove and Sub-Zero refrigerator/freezer are wrapped within red Sierra Chica granite countertops and Makora cabinetry. Directly across on the port side is a conveniently located day head. Staying on the port side, the watertight aircraft-style entry door gives access to the bow area. A duplicate aircraft-style door is on the starboard side as well for quick egress from either side. The center lined helm lower station is well designed and generously laid out. A built-in dinette on the starboard forward corner accommodates casual dining. Leather seating on the dinette settee continues the warmth and charm of the vessel. A companionway on the port side of the lower helm circles into a foyer for the private staterooms. The full-beam 18' wide master stateroom is aft of the foyer with his and her heads separated by a glass door tub enclosure. The master stateroom has generous closets and built-in cabinetry storage. The recessed flat screen television and ceiling lights allow the owner to relax in this quiet retreat. The VIP guest stateroom is forward, while the guest stateroom is located on the starboard side. Each stateroom features a private ensuite head. The laundry room is a walk-in with full-sized side-by-side washer and dryer and adequate storage. Adjacent to the main entry door is a circular staircase to the crew's quarters and engine room access. The utility area and lazarette are both accessible from this area as well. The captain's quarters/stateroom features a private ensuite head, while the bunk beds in the crew's quarters are so well-appointed they could be utilized as additional guest quarters. The crew quarters have an ensuite head as well. The transom has a center lined watertight door in the cockpit, allowing the engine room and crew to work without disturbing the owner and guests. Cruise in luxury on the spacious and inviting upper deck. The custom circular spa is on the aft deck just forward of the davit and inflatable tender. Moving forward is another oversized settee on the starboard side, while the port side is equipped with a built-in bar and stools. The forward helm is equipped with Redundant electronics for the captain. A Stidd helm chair makes the journey comfortable. The large fiberglass hardtop creates an abundant covered entertaining area.
