DETAILED INFORMATION

Overview

Cockpit

The Jeanneau 53 Zuma features a twin helm layout with a large wood cockpit table and full seat and back cushions. The cockpit seats and floor are teak, and there are canvas covers for the winches, table, and both wheels. The forward cockpit lounge seats make for a comfortable place to relax or to sit watch under the protection of the dodger.

Accommodations

Layout: Zuma is a three-cabin three head layout with the master forward. Each stateroom has an ensuite head and shower.

Salon: The salon is to starboard forward of the navigation station. The salon seating to starboard is capable of seating 6-8 people around the electric adjustable table. The port side settee is approximately 6'3" long, very comfortable, and hides a small bar.

Navigation Station: The forward-facing navigation station is to starboard of the companionway stairs and offers easy access to AC and DC breakers, VHF, and Raymarine Chartplotter.

Staterooms: The master stateroom is forward and features a true queen size bed with partial walk around. There is a desk to port with a portable stool and a large hanging closet and ample storage around and under the bed. The aft staterooms also have large beds, plenty of headroom, and ensuite head access.

Heads: Each of the three heads has an electric flush toilet with a fresh or seawater option. The master shower has a partition to keep the head dry.

Fabrics and Wood: The Alpi teak cabinetry and bulkheads combined with the light oak sole and mocha leather upholstery create a luxurious look.
