Overview

Wind In Your Face is a Mainship 34 in excellent condition. There have been several upgrades that have customized this trawler, which add to her livability, and make her very desirable. The twin engines make her easy to drive and dock. Features of the Mainship 34 include a covered cockpit, stairs to the enclosed flybridge, cockpit access to the engine room and lazarette, wide covered sidewalks, a large salon, and a forward master stateroom and head. Wind In Your Face is the ideal vessel for anchoring overnight, a weekend journey, or a cruising couple. She also looks just as good at the dock, enjoying the view or socializing from either the comfortable flybridge or the cockpit.

You will not be disappointed to have the Wind In Your Face!

MAIN DESCRIPTION

Wind In Your Face is a Mainship 34 in excellent condition. There have been several upgrades that have customized this trawler, which add to her livability, and make her very desirable. The twin engines make her easy to drive and dock. Features of the Mainship 34 include a covered cockpit, stairs to the enclosed flybridge, cockpit access to the engine room and lazarette, wide covered sidewalks, a large salon, and a forward master stateroom and head. Wind In Your Face is the ideal vessel for anchoring overnight, a weekend journey, or a cruising couple. She also looks just as good at the dock, enjoying the view or socializing from either the comfortable flybridge or the cockpit.

You will not be disappointed to have the Wind In Your Face!

2005 MAINSHIP 34 ACCOMMODATIONS

Salon

The carpeted salon on Wind In Your Face is accessed via curtained double aluminum doors from the cockpit. A high-low dining table with two rattan chairs is to starboard, as well as the electrical panel and a TV. Aft to port is a Coolmatic 12vdc/110vac refrigerator/freezer. The leatherette sofa to port has storage built in. The large windows have blinds for privacy, and open for ventilation.

Moving forward, there is a door to starboard for access to the sidewalk and foredeck. The original three panel windshield has a custom cabinet built over the starboard panel. The center panel opens for ventilation. There is no interior helm. The galley is two steps down, to port.

Master Stateroom

The carpeted master stateroom on Wind In Your Face is forward, on the same level as the galley and head. It features a centerline queen-sized berth. There is storage available in a hanging locker, as well as drawers. Light and ventilation are available through the two portlights or the overhead hatch. There are two reading lights, as well as a TV. The ensuite head can be accessed via a door to starboard.

2005 MAINSHIP 34 COCKPIT, BRIDGE, DECK

The covered cockpit on Wind In Your Face has many features: a transom door to the swim platform, non-skid decks, transom storage boxes, a raw water wash down, a fresh water shower, and fold-down steps on each bulwark. The molded steps to the flybridge are easy to navigate, and lift up to provide access to the engine room and lazarette. The same level access to the covered sidewalks is an asset for line handling.

The swim platform has a Weaver hydraulic transom davit system to store the included tender, and a swim ladder.

The flybridge on Wind In Your Face offers a full helm forward. There is a Crown Ltd. Mariners helm seat at center with an added navigator seat to starboard. Guests will enjoy an L-shaped settee with a folding table aft to port and a bench seat to starboard. Non-skid decks, a folding mast, and spreader lights are additional features. The bimini and Eisenglass enclosure were replaced in 2018 and the forward Eisenglass was installed in 2012. The flybridge cushions were replaced in 2012.

The deck equipment on Wind In Your Face includes:

- Lewmar anchor windlass with foot pedal controls at windlass and controls at the flybridge helm
- 35lb Bullwagga anchor
- 22lb Delta secondary anchor
- 5/16" anchor chain and 5/8" braided rode
- Stainless steel deck hardware and rails
- Sampson post
- Canvas covers on windows and windshield
- Bomar deck hatch

2005 MAINSHIP 34 GALLEY
