The 4 large guest staterooms are positioned aft on the lower deck and are finished in maple and bird's eye maple to ensure a light and airy feel.

From the entrance lobby a Georgian style door, glazed with beveled glass, leads to the main deck saloon. This formal and comfortable area is divided into two distinct ambiances by way of a pair of low cupboards, separating one zone for dining and another for the lounge. The dining area is forward and comprises of a circular table with leaf insert for additional guests. The table is surrounded by mahogany topped sideboards and glass-fronted cabinets for china, glassware etc. Service is direct from the pantry through a door on the port side.

The yacht's skylounge is located at the head of the stairs ascending from the main deck lobby furnished with an off-white carpet and Mahogany paneling. Featuring a large L-shape settee to starboard and a circular game table to port.

Aft of the sky lounge and through another set of beveled Georgian doors is the boat deck featuring ample seating port and starboard under cover, a teak dining table for guests.
