Designed by C. Raymond Hunt (Bertram) and built in Rhode Island by Ted Hood, these little sport fishers are known for their strong hulls, great ride, excellent fishability, and a boat you want to be on when it gets rough. Fish all day with all you need to be out for days at a time.

Description

Broker's Comments
The Tuna are waiting! I'm told these motors have been well maintained and have recently been run with confidence. There is a lot of fishing machine here for the money. This is a great little boat that needs some TLC and most importantly an owner that will use her. She has good bones and a comfortable cabin. She needs new electronics both down and up as there are none and a refrigerator as there isn't one currently on board. She could use a wash and a wax as well...If someone has the time/or the time/money to put her back in shape and update her, they would get a nice sportfish! Call for an appointment!.

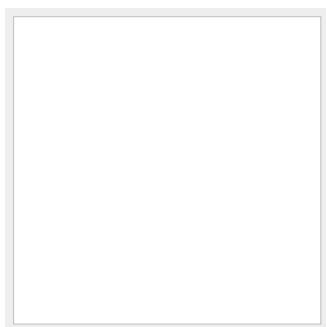

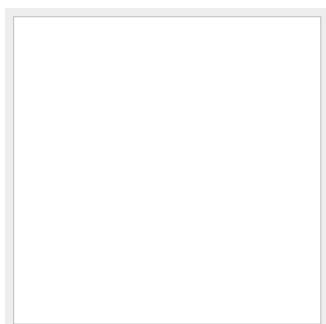

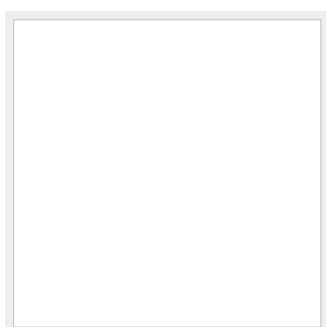

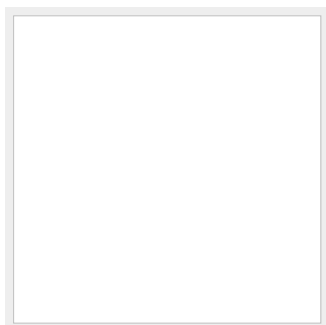

Exclusions

Owner's personal belongings.
