Overview

Brand new to the market, we have a spectacular new design awaiting your white glove inspection. This boat is modern, still in like new condition and she has been highly customized. The yacht's owner spent millions of dollars on top of the price for a production built yacht. The suite of electronics installed on "EDONISMO" is truly one of a kind. The owner can monitor his yacht's systems from anywhere on earth via a smartphone and the tender can communicate with the yacht via satellite. The FLIR smart camera system actively monitors the yacht's surroundings and detects heat and motion. The modern exterior of this yacht turns heads. The aft deck is large and the flybridge is a huge space; tailormade for relaxation. Please take a close look at our photos and virtual tour. All were just taken at the time EDONISMO was listed. The built-in hot tub on the bow of this yacht is a custom feature created specifically for this yacht. I know of no other yacht in this size range with a hot tub and this luxurious bow design. There is a smart settee with table built in just aft of the tub. When the hot tub is not in use, this area can be used for sunning and a custom shade goes up in minutes for privacy. Stepping into to the interior you notice every facet of this yacht has been finished carefully. The owner was able to upgrade all the leather used inside. Instead of the builder's typical finish, the owner negotiated for Consentino Silestone and Dekton Quartz to be used on the floors and countertops. All appliances are top of the line Miele. There are literally hundreds of examples of this owner paying more money to upgrade, finesse, and make his yacht special compared to boats he had previously seen. The layout features two staterooms and the forward suite has a staircase from the suite directly up to the bow. The price to build this boat again would cost greater than 5 million plus take 24 months to complete. EDONISMO is available for purchase immediately and her asking price is firm.
